

TPA Mobile Labs
Website Policies & Disclosures
Effective February 2025

1. Privacy Policy

TPA Mobile Labs values your privacy. When you visit our website, we may collect basic data such as your IP address, browser type, and pages visited for analytics. If you submit a form, we collect only the information you provide (e.g., name, phone, email). We do not sell or share your data without your permission, except where required by law.

All collected data is stored securely and used solely to respond to your inquiries, schedule services, or send updates with your consent.

2. HIPAA Compliance

While our website is not intended to collect personal health information (PHI), any PHI shared through forms, email, or chat is handled in compliance with HIPAA standards. Do not include sensitive health data when using general forms.

3. Terms of Use

By accessing or using our website, you agree to use it only for lawful purposes. Content is provided for informational purposes only and should not be interpreted as medical advice. We reserve the right to modify or remove website content at any time.

4. Cookies

Our website may use cookies to enhance user experience and collect anonymized analytics. You can control cookies through your browser settings.

5. External Links

Our site may link to third-party resources. TPA Mobile Labs is not responsible for the privacy practices or content of those external sites.

6. Scheduling & Service Requests

By submitting a request for services through the site, you acknowledge that this does not guarantee appointment confirmation. Our staff will contact you to finalize details. All appointments are subject to availability.

7. Testimonials & Images

Patient testimonials and images used on this website are shared with express written consent. Testimonials reflect individual experiences and results may vary.

8. Copyright Notice

All content on this website, including logos, images, and text, is the property of TPA Mobile Labs and may not be reproduced without permission.
